

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS - ASSISTANT PROFESSOR (WINTER 2024)

Assumption University is seeking an individual to teach Catholicism and Dialogue (CATH 8200) in the Winter 2024 semester. This course studies Catholicism's ecumenical and interfaith initiatives with a focus on mutual understanding, acceptance, and healing. This course will explore the Church's interactions with several traditions, including Anglicanism, Protestantism, Orthodoxy, Judaism, Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism, and Atheism. This course will also discuss the Church's path towards reconciliation with Indigenous communities both in Canada and abroad. The course is part of Assumption University's Online Graduate Diploma in Catholic Studies: <https://assumptionu.ca/diploma-in-catholic-studies/>

Rank: Assistant Professor

Length of Appointment: January 2, 2024 to April 30, 2024 (Inclusive)

Class Date and Time: Thursdays 6:00-8:50 PM

Compensation: To Be Discussed

Deadline to Apply: October 3, 2023 by 4:00 PM

Qualifications

The successful candidate must have completed a Ph.D./Doctorate in the area of Catholic Studies, Religious Studies, or a related field of study. The ideal candidate will demonstrate their academic abilities by providing a sample publication, teaching evaluations, evidence of interfaith activities and/or other related materials in support of their application.

Application Instructions

Please submit the following documents to Cecile Bertrand-Skory at cbertrand@assumptionu.ca :

1. Cover letter that outlines the candidate's qualifications and experience for the position
2. Complete and updated Curriculum Vitae
3. Proof of completed Ph.D./Doctorate
4. List of 3-5 academic/professional referees (*Please note that the applicant's submission of referees shall constitute their consent/permission to allow Assumption University to contact and/or follow up with the referees as it may deem appropriate.)
5. One sample publication, teaching evaluations, evidence of interfaith activities, or other materials

The cover letter may be addressed to Dr. John Cappucci, Principal, Assumption University.

About Us

Assumption University sits on the traditional home of the Three Fires Confederacy comprising the Odawa, Ojibway, and Potawatomie Nations. Assumption University is one of most historic Roman Catholic institutes of higher learning in Canada. Informed by the Basilian tradition, we seek to empower individuals to cultivate goodness in themselves and others, embody discipline in their path towards excellence, and recognize the importance of constantly pursuing knowledge throughout their lives.